Delegate R. Steven Landes
Chairman, House of Delegates Education Committee

Delegate Steve Landes represents the 25th District in the Virginia House of Delegates. He is chairman of the House Education Committee, vice chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and a member of the Rules and Privileges and Elections committees.

Delegate Landes believes every child in Virginia, regardless of his or her zip code, deserves access to a high-quality education. As chairman of the Education Committee, he supports reforms to improve and reduce Virginia's Standard of Learning (SOL) tests and give schools more flexibility in the accreditation process. He introduced House Bill 1336, which requires colleges to develop a standardized system for granting credits to incoming students who have successfully completed AP courses. Landes supports public charter schools and, for the first time ever, both the House and Senate passed a Virginia Constitutional Amendment to establish innovative public charter schools as an option for families who want a better choice. In order to become law, the amendment must pass the General Assembly again next year and then be approved by the voters.

Landes also serves as a House Budget Conferee and is a member of the Governor's Advisory Council on Revenue Estimates, the Major Employment and Investment Projects Approval Commission, the Education Commission of the States, and the Joint Legislative Audit and Review Commission.

PARTNERS

Dr. Teresa A. Sullivan
President, University of Virginia

Teresa A. Sullivan is the 8th president of the University of Virginia (UVA). Since taking office in 2010, she has led UVA through a period of significant progress. In fall 2012, she launched a planning effort to provide a road map for the University's future, which produced a new strategic plan for the University, the Cornerstone Plan. President Sullivan developed a new financial model for the University to ensure stability and transparency, launched a substantial program in Organizational Excellence, and created a program to expand the full-time faculty in multidisciplinary clusters. In 2013, she led the University to completion of its $3 billion capital campaign, and announced plans to raise financial support for three strategic priorities: retaining and recruiting top faculty, restoring the University's Jeffersonian Grounds, and providing needy students with scholarships. Working with her team, President Sullivan has prepared UVA to tackle the serious challenges in higher education related to cost-containment, affordability, student-debt reduction, faculty compensation, and the emergence of online education. UVA now has ongoing efforts, at both the unit and pan-University levels, to reduce costs, improve processes, and enhance efficiency, while protecting the quality of the academic enterprise. Sullivan chairs the Council of Presidents for the Association of Governing Boards of Universities and Colleges and co-chairs the National Research Council's Committee on Improving Higher Education's Responsiveness to Regional STEM Workforce Needs.

His Smart Start program received the prestigious Innovations in American Government Award from the Ford Foundation and the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University. Under his leadership, North Carolina public schools improved test scores more than any other state in the 1990s, according to the Rand Corporation. During the last 20 years, he has devoted much of his time to excellence in teaching in the United States. A strong supporter of high standards in public schools, Gov.
