POWERED BY DATA, DRIVEN BY INSIGHT

Global Supply & Demand Database

A global reference in petrochemical market data, the ICIS Supply and Demand Database brings you a wealth of data covering refining, petrochemical feedstocks, base chemicals, intermediates and derivatives markets.

It incorporates four fully reconciled databases in one easy-to-use interface, providing you with supply, demand, production capacity, and trade flows to empower long-term, evidence based decision-making.

Search, shape and export historical and projected data from all over the world, looking back to 1978 and forward up to 2030, across 160 countries and 100 markets.
